

Does my spouse/ partner need life insurance, too?

Yes! You need to protect each other.

Whether your spouse/partner works inside or outside the home, you both need the financial security that life insurance provides. Why? Because you each contribute to the household in your own way, and if one of you were to pass prematurely, it could create a burden for your loved ones.

How would you replace lost income? If your spouse provides childcare, how would you manage if they were gone? If your spouse does all the home and car maintenance and they pass, how will you keep the household running?

Bottom line, you depend on each other. That means you need life insurance to protect your finances and the way of life you've built together – to provide peace of mind for everyone.
